Do you recognize this?

- Slides with multiple paragraphs of text have shown to significantly decrease the attention of the audience, and thus the effectiveness of getting your message across.
- Since we can't read and listen at the same time, this basically tells the audience to read directly off the slides and stop listening to you.

Let your slides breathe.

It lets your audience listen to you.

Do not use the slide as a manuscript

QUICK FIX.

The Nike Trainer One is not a magical training shoe. It's a training shoe.
Its Dri-FIT technology activates your muscles to work how they're supposed to, giving you faster results from all those squats, lunges and classes that you do. So you get fit faster.
